Broadway Owners To Decide 'New Look' At Friday Meeting

Broadway property owners in Lemon Grove will decide Friday how the town's main stem will look from 1971 forward.

A public meeting, sponsored by the L. G. Chamber of Commerce, will be held tomorrow at 7 p.m. at the L.G. Junior High school auditorium so that property owners and interested citizens may choose between two plans.

Both plans have center islands with turn pockets plus parking control strips at the edges of a four-lane thoroughfare.

Major purpose of the meeting, according to Bob Russell, chamber president, is to encourage the acceptance of a plan that would landscape the center islands, relocate the present street lighting system to the islands, and pave and maintain a striped parking area between the roadway and the sidewalk. The latter property is privately owned, being part of the property it fronts.

Landscaping, Russell said, would be installed without cost. However, a maintenance district would then be required to keep the plants thriving. The same district would provide upkeep of the parking area, he said.

In a letter of invitation mailed to property owners last week, Russell said:

Dear Broadway Property Owners:

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce cordially invites you to attend a meeting for the purpose of reviewing and explaining the public improvements to Broadway between Olive and Kempf streets. This meeting will be held at the Lemon Grove Jr. High School Auditorium on Friday, December 11 at 7:00 p.m.

The County of San Diego is definitely planning to widen and improve Broadway between Olive and Kempf Streets. Construction is tentatively planned for early 1971.

The Department of County Engineering has two sets of plans for such improvement. Plan 'A' calls for improvements in the form of providing for travel lanes with center median and two parking lanes. Plan "B" includes all of the improvements contemplated in Plan "A" and the resurfacing and striping of existing parking lanes on both sides of Broadway behind the safety islands and further provides for landscaping of the center islands.

We have been advised that Plan "A" can be implemented without consent of the property owners fronting on Broadway between Olive and Kempf Streets and will of course result in an increased assessment to those property owners fronting Broadway. Plan "B" requires approval of the owners of at least 60% of the assessed area due to the fact that the parking area on both sides of Broadway are to be resurfaced and striped and the center islands are to be landscaped. Also, Plan "A" would call for the creation of parking area maintenance district.

The Chamber of Commerce and numerous interested residents and businessmen have endorsed Plan "B". As you are a property owner fronting on Broadway between Olive and Kempf Streets, your attendance is particularly desired at the above Friday meeting.

Officials of the County Engineering Department will be available at said meeting to explain the mechanics of both plans and to answer questions from the audience.

Very truly yours,
Robert Russell
President,
Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce

S.V. Kennel Permit Denied

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — After a long and often confusing hearing about a dog keeping operation in Spring Valley, the County Board of Supervisors last week upheld the deenial of a kennel permit.

The permit was sought by Mildred Martin, 9171 Harness st., on appeal from the decision of County Veterinarian H. C. Johnstone.

Johnstone reported a number of violations of county regulations to the supervisors, including operation of a kennel (over six adult dogs) without a permit.

A number of neighbors appeared in support of the veterinarian's position that the permit should not be issued.

The report said that health department records showed that over a period of several months inspections revealed persistent odor and fly problems.

Mrs. Martin said she had cleaned up the fly problem and blamed much of her problems on neighbors harassing her.

Board members got all involved in the dates that things happened, the board's authority, the veterinarian's authority, and a number of other secondary considerations.

Realty Firm Chooses LG For Growth

A "transplanted Minnesotan" — Frank S. Sindelar, has opened a real estate office in Lemon Grove.

The firm, with its complement of seven people, is located in the triangle formed by Cypress and Palm on Imperial ave.

Sindelar's firm is the Multiflex Realty and the address is 2615 Imperial and he operates another office under the same name in North Park.

Associated with the local firm are Jeanne Hinton, Florence Allen, Jon Rice, Pat Lavele, Allan Maunula, and Carol Simmons.

The firm will specialize in homes and will cover Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, Casa de Oro and San Diego area west of Lemon Grove.

"There are a diversity of homes — both new and old — and a lot of vacants lots in the area we will cover," Sindelar said. "I can forsee all the unimproved property filling up solidly in the near future."

The newly organized Lemon Grove Planning Association, the developing freeway pattern, and the fact that property in this area has held its value, convinced me that this was the place to open our second office," he said.

"I hope people won't think that I'm negative, but I fell for the streets without sidewalks, and the properties with trees. That told me there was room for improvement — and that is when a community thrives," he said.

Central Federal To Open Office In Cajon Center

Central Federal Savings and Loan Association of San Diego will open a new branch office in El Cajon, Fred C. Stalder, Association President, announced.

The office, to be located in the Sears Parkway Plaza Shopping center, will begin operations January 2.

To celebrate the opening, special events are planned during the day, with refreshments and gifts for the public highlighting the occasion.

Stalder said the El Cajon office will ofer the area residents the Association' full line of services which include a complete range of savings accounts, construction loans, home purchase and improvement loans, mobile home loans, and a variety of free customer services.

Central Federal, with assets in excess of $160 million, has seven offices throughout the county. The Association's main office is at Seventh and C streets in downtown San Diego. Other offices are in College Grove, Chula Vista, La Jolla, Point Loma, Carlsbad, and the new site in El Cajon.

The Business Women's League has been decorating the tree on the North Plaza in Lemon Grove since it was planted in 1953, when Mrs. Huebsch was president of th League. Steadying the ladder for Mrs. Huebsch is Mrs. Fred Scheneman, also of the Business Women's League.

LG Fire Report

One fire call and two rescue calls were the extent of the Lemon Grove Fire Department activities for the week of Nov. 30-Dec. 7.

On Dec. 7 at 12:09 a.m., firemen and equipment went to the home of Mrs. Charles Tibbits, 1678 San Altos ln. There a cigarette, which had been left smouldering in a couch, caused about $700 damage to the house.

On Dec. 3 at 8:34 a.m. the rescue team went to 2035 Nobel st. There Dorothy Parsons, 41, was complaining of chest pains and was administered oxygen and sent to a hospital.

On Dec. 6 at 2:22 p.m., Jerry Carter, 28, of 801 Broadview, Spring Valley, who has been under a doctor's care, was picked up in Lemon Grove and sent to Navy Hospital.

Petitions Circulate In Sups' Raise Referendum

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A group spearheading a referendum to prevent county supervisors from raising their own salaries from $16,000 to $19,000 will have petitions circulating this week.

Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh of San Diego said she was completing work on the petitions on Monday so that printing could be completed on Tuesday.

She is a member of the board of directors of the San Diego County Coordinating Republican Assembly which agreed last week to sponsor the petition drive.

The board gave itself a $3,000 raise on Dec. 1 to $19,00 in an ordinance that goes into effect Jan. 1. The petition drive must be completed by Dec. 31 and 43,000 valid signatures, ten percent of the vote in the last election for governor, are needed.

Mrs. Marsh said the aim is for 50,000 signatures of registered voters so that the effort would not fail through the rejection of invalid names.

She said the group hopes to have from 500 to 1000 volunteers in the field. A primary need, she said, is for locations where the volunteers can set up registration tables for the drive.

Sups Back Down On Self Raise

The County Board of Supervisors Tuesday rescinded the $3,000 pay raise by 3-2 vote — the raise they had given themselves by the same vote — although the voters were not the same.

William Craven was the switch vote. He voted for the raise on Dec. 1 and voted against it Tuesday.

Henry Boney and DeGraff Austin opposed it during both votes.

Jack Walsh complained that the board responds to pressure of "uniformed media"; a "minority pressure"; "ununiformed media" and "a sprinkling of people" stating half-facts.

What the board was responding to was a referendum petition campaign by which the raise would have to be approved by voters.

Harry Scheidle, representing this district, said the Tuesday action denies the right of the electorate to express itself. There is no need for the referendum since the raise was cancelled.

Registrar of Voters Charles J. Sexton said that a special one-issue election would cost in the neighborhood of $150,000 or more, depending upon the number of precincts established.

Mrs. Marsh said this cost figure is a subterfuge since the petition is so worded that the supervisors could repeal the ordinance, rather than going to election.

Although the board vote was three to two, both Henry A. Boney and De Graff Austin, the no votes, said they believed that the higher salary was justified.

The seven other elected county officials make an average of $10,000 a year more than board members do. Some 275 other county employees also enjoy higher wages than do the members of the board.

The supervisors tentatively plan a large bond election for mid-April when most school districts except for San Diego will hold elections.

It is doubtful if the board would care to place a referendum on the same election as a general obligation bond issue, however. It would not seem to be good politics.

Probation Meted To Grove Man For 'Exposure'

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Lemon Grove man Friday in Superior Court was put on five years probation in connection with his plea of guilty on Feb. 7, 1969, to indecent exposure.

John William Nausler, 35, a pattern-maker at a Santee firm, of 7930 Alton dr., Lemon Grove, has been in and out of state and county centers for evaluation since Jan. 24, 1969 the date of the offense. At the time, he admitted 10 other in-

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

The Guinea Pig Syndrome

So much has been said about listening to the young generation that almost no voice has been raised for the middle-age, middle-class group that sired the young rebels. This group pays the bills and is responsible for what little morality is left in these United States.

Our good, great (also big and smart) friend, Assemblyman John Stull, who is the favorite son and legislative representative of our neighbors in the north county, puts it in language that makes the unholy phenomenon of unregimented youth, and their kinky advisors, considerably more understandable.

Stull believes that much of this strangeness comes from guinea pigs who are almost trampling over each other to prove what has already been proven. The sum total of human experience is disregarded often, he says, "in favor of a reckless 'have to see for yourself' attitude."

Then, following Stull's thinking: "Possibly this is an outgrowth of the idea of relative values and notions that everything is good or bad, according to each individual's preference," he opines.

This theory is great until it runs into such things as "speed" or strychnine. At any rate, "common sense has been replaced, in many cases, by the guinea-pig syndrome," he says.

Then he spells it out:

"Nowhere is this syndrome more apparent than on the drug scene.

"Another area of unnecessary experimentation is in academic standards of behavior.

"Some behavior patterns work; some do not, and with the still volatile campus situation, it seems highly irresponsible to continue the failures."

Stull charges that faculty attitude has contributed to the problem on most campuses — with militant faculty activists usually eyed passively by their colleagues. Much trouble and tragedy could have been averted by responsible, dynamic faculty responses, Stull says.

"However, this did not materialize, and recently University of California President Charles Hitch called upon professors to develop an effective professional code of ethics, according to news reports," Stull said.

"In response to Pres. Hitch's request, at least one influential faculty member of the Berkeley division of the University of California academic senate took a formal stand against any code of conduct that spells out penalties for violation.

"It is unfortunate that the situation has reached the point where such a faculty code is deemed necessary. It does go against one's ideas of what a faculty should do and be. Nevertheless, even so-called intellectuals cannot have things both ways — the honor and dignity so long accorded the academy cannot stand cheek by jowl with rampant militancy. The two are not compatible, and unless the faculties encourage and enforce responsibility themselves, it will be imposed upon them," Stull said.

"They cannot have the prerogatives of academic privilege while inciting, contributing to, or actively sympathizing with, a riot. They cannot dismiss their classes in response to their own political prejudices. And they cannot continue their overt efforts to politicize the university without jeopardizing the whole system.

"Pres. Hitch can scarcely be considered a hardliner in the campus situation, but regarding the faculty code of ethics, he took a needed stand. He was not harsh, for he gave the responsibility to the faculty itself. The U.C. Berkeley faculty responded as it has done so often — negatively. Obviously, rules without penalties have not been effective in the past, but the cap-and-gown guinea pigs continue to plunge headlong, demanding that it be proved again," he concluded.

Sups Give Authority To L.G. Planning Assn

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The Lemon Grove Citizens' Planning Association was formally recognized on Dec. 2 by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board, acting upon the recommendation of the planning commission, authorized the county planning staff to act in a consultant capacity to assist the citizen planning effort. The group now becomes the voice of the community for future planning.

The only real question came from Supervisor Jack Walsh who voted against the association's decision to hold membership on the executive committee to a minimum of 18 years of age.

Walsh said the youth of the community should be included in the planning effort since they would live with the results.

Chairman James Dorman told the supervisors that membership on the executive committee, the working group, was open, with the exception of the age limitation, to anyone with an interest in the community, whether property, residence, or work.

The board was in receipt of a letter from the Spring Valley Park and Recreation District asking that the portion of its district around Mt. Miguel High School be excluded from the planning limits.

Dorman said, however, that inclusion of this area seemed to be logical to the planning group and it was included by the supervisors.

It was estimated that the value of the staff work over the months of the planning effort will be in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Want to learn an effective short cut for expanding your Spanish vocabulary? One of the easiest ways to do this is add "ando" or "iendo" to some verbs that you already know. "Ando" and "iendo" are suffixes which, when added to a verb in Spanish, are equivalent to adding "ing" to a verb in English.

Let us start with "hablar" which means "to speak." We remove the last two letters, "ar," from the verb and replace them with "ando." By doing this we have changed "hablar" to "hablando" and have changed the meaning from "to speak" to "speaking."

Now let us try it again with the verb "lavar" which means "to wash." We remove the suffix "ar" and replace it with "ando." This changes "lavar" to "lavando" and also changes the meaning from "to wash" to "washing." We convert "manejar" in the same way. Remove the "ar" ending and substitute "ando." By doing this we change the word from "manejar" to "manejando" and the meaning from "to drive" to "driving." "Ando may be added to verbs that originally end in "ar."

A different suffix, "iendo," may be added to verbs that originally end in "er" or "ir." This may be seen in "vivir" when we remove the "ir" ending and replace it with "iendo." This changes "vivir" to "viviendo" and changes the meaning from "to live" to "living." A similar change is seen when "comer" is converted to "comiendo." This also changes the meaning from "to eat" to "eating." The suffix "iendo" is used only with verbs that end in "er" or "ir" as seen in the examples of "comer" and "vivir."

Practice phrases listed below reflect the use of verbs ending in "ando" and "iendo" and demonstrate that these suffixes are translated to the English suffix "ing." You may wish to practice saying them with the recorded voice that leads you in pronouncing them when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Esta manejando usted?" (eh-STAH mah-neh-HAHN-doh oo-STEHD)
for "Are you driving?"

Christmas Pageant Set At Grossmont High School

A 45-year-old Grossmont High School tradition comes to life next week when the school's annual Christmas pageant is presented Monday through Thursday evenings, December 14-17, at 8 p.m. in the Grossmont High School auditorium.

The hour-long program has changed little since it was first presented 45 years ago under the direction of Mrs. Eva Quicksall.

More than 300 students will partiripate in the pageant this year as members of the cast, crew, the Red Robe choir and school orchestra.

"The pageant represents a great deal of preparation and work by a large group of students and faculty," says Mrs. Audrey Seidel, general director of the pageant and drama teacher at Grossmont.

The first pageant was conceived by Mrs. Eva Quicksall, now retired. She still takes an active interest in the production and notes that the Grossmont program has become a unique community tradition, viewed by nearly 5,000 community residents each year. Tickets are free but usually go fast.

The highlight of the pageant will be the simple and moving Madonna scene. It has remained virtually unchanged through the 45-year history of the pageant.

The Madonnas, performing on alternate nights, will be Grossmont High School seniors, Dotti Gann and Susan Turner, both 17.

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is for more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

CONRAD LEMON GROVE MORTUARY

Berger Tells Kiwanis Of Laguna Fire

Spring Valley Fire Chief Frank Berger showed slides and told the story of the Laguna fire which recently burned 185,000 acres in San Diego County, nearly 300 square miles.

The fire burned an area 32 miles in length. He praised the work of the men fighting the fire and the tremendous cooperation by all co-operating fire departments, at a recent Spring Valley Kiwanis meeting.

Hardest hit as far as loss of homes was the Harbison Canyon area which lost 114 homes followed closely by the Crest area. Many homes were saved but it was impossible to be everywhere at once.

Another difficulty was the unfamiliarity of the different departments from other areas with some homes located in remote areas, said Berger.

Past President Bob Divine annouced that the Monte Vista High Key Club had a very successful food drive and presented 7 families with food baskets for Thanksgiving.

Past members and friends who wish to attend should contact George Munn, 1596 Clarke dr., El Cajon.

The group's Christmas party will be held December 15. Munn is the contact on that affair, too.

Poultry Returns Down This Year

Gross returns to California poultrymen will total nearly $350 million in 1970, down 2.5 per cent from 1969, according to a Bank of America study reported by Regional Vice President C. O. Phillips.

The slight decline was attributed to lower prices, although production increased. Key factor in the drop was the egg industry, with receipts dipping 6 per cent, to $225 million.

Gross returns on broilers should rise 7 per cent, to $54 million, while receipts for turkey production will remain about the same, at $70 million.

Elaborating on the report, Phillips noted that his San Diego County region will continue to produce a significant share of the state's poultry products.

The first part of the program is built around songs of a newly-organized school chorus directed by Patricia Jacobsen, fourth grade teacher. Other classes are contributing tableaux, verse choir numbers as well as being responsible for scenery and staging.

A "Christmas Mummers" play features students of Mrs. Shirley Richards' fifth grade class. Lead parts are held by Kenneth Reed, Keneth King, Robert Brown and Timothy Day.

Mrs. Slaugh said Shawn Feeser, sixth grade student, will be the narrator and Mike Fischer, student body president, will welcome parents.

According to Mrs. Slaugh, other Avondale School activities include a special Christmas treat and a visit by Santa Claus, both events sponsored by the school's Parent-Teacher Association.

Economics Classes Keep Local Students Busy

Highlands Elementary School in the Casa de Oro section of Spring Valley has it all together . . . in the economics game. Three years ago Verne Sweigard introduced the subject of economics to his students because, "I want children to take away an experience applicable to their adult lives of which they can proudly say, 'I learned that in elementary school'." His adventure won him a Kazanjean Award.

Last year two staff partners, Mrs. Terese Blanc and Ed Greenalch, joined in a similar endeavor. They too were awarded distinction by the Kazanjean Foundation this year. Now participating are Mrs. Donna Fleming, a first and second grade combination teacher, and Mrs. Kathleen McClellan, a teacher of the educationally handicapped.

The new activity in economics now involves five classrooms of first, second, fifth and sixth-graders. What about third grade? There's always next year.

The most recent money-making project involves the mass production of wreaths made of I.B.M. cards, monster pots, sandcast candles, tree ornaments and papier mache candle holders. Santa's Workshop couldn't be busier than the "Highlander elves."

What are they learning? Budget buying, sensible investing, conservation of materials, air market value, communication and sales techniques and percentages, in addition to all elementary mathematic skills, banking and investing.

All the teachers claim many many more important facets of learning are taking place such as cooperation, sharing, artistic skills and more.

All five classes are hoping to use the profits for a study trip, by plane, to Universal Studios in Hollywood.

High School Career Day Successful

More than 500 high school seniors in the Grossmont Community College District were special guests at Grossmont College's first High School Career Day, December 3. Replacing the stereotyped student open house, the Career Day visitation enabled students to obtain first-hand information on a variety of careers in the many technical-vocational fields.

Aimed at providing new ideas for careers for the high school seniors, the Career Day program let the students observe the career opportunities first-hand. Divided into small groups, the seniors visited regular classroom and laboratory sessions.

Co-chaired by Mrs. Emilie Duggan, vocational education department head and Don McClarey, community vocational counselor, the Career Day program was designed to show the high school students the many opportunities presented by the technical-vocational education program at Grossmont College.

Each group of students was accompanied by a member of the Grossmont College counseling staff as well as a senior class counselor and vocational counselor from each high school to answer questions and provide additional information.

According to Mrs. Duggan, this is the first time that a presentation of this type has been offered by Grossmont College. Based on the success of this program, a Career Day will be repeated during the Spring semester.

Local Schools Dominate Winter Wrestling Tourney

Monte Vista, Mount Miguel, and Helix High School's wrestling teams, for many years the top teams in the county, flexed their traditional muscle last weekend at Southwestern, as they took the top three spots in the Southwestern Winter Wrestling Championships.

The Monte Vista grapplers, despite winning only 1 weight division, showed enough deptl to nail down the top spot, while Mount Miguel won two divisions for second, and Helix picked up third place with one winner.

Mount Miguel jumped into the lead in the early going, as last year's Outstanding Wrestler at the tournament, Dale Siscon, decisioned his opponent for the win.

Mount Miguel drew away from the pack in the next two divisions, picking up two third places, while Monte Vista could manage only one fourth placing.

But in the next division, Monte Vista wrestlers came alive to get a second place. Mount Miguel fought back to get a first place in the next class, but the Monarchs kept the pressure on, completing the last four divisions with seconds, a third, and a first to win.

Team Scores: Monte Vista 91, Mount Miguel 70, Helix, 53, University 51.

M.V. Hoopsters Beat Morse And Madison

By Tom Blattler

Last weekend Monte Vista's basketballers defeated both the Morse Tigers and the Madison Warhawks.

Monte Vista beat Morse, 63-52, last Friday night on the losers' floor. On Saturday night, the Monarchs got by Madison, 58-52, on Monte Vista's court.

Against Morse, Monte Vista started slowly with the Tigers gaining the lead, 16-14, at the end of the first quarter. By halftime, the Monarchs had tied the score at 25.

In the second half, the Monarchs' press went to work and forced many Tiger turnovers to set up scores. Monte Vista outscored Morse, 18-7, in the third stanza.

Both teams scored 20 points in the fourth quarter to make the final score, 63-52, in favor of the Monarchs.

Senior Allen Bunting led the Monarchs' scoring with 27 points. Forwards Gary Earle and Jack Cross both scored double figures. Earle had 17 tallies and Cross 12.

In the Madison game, both teams were tied at the end of the first quarter, 13-13. The Monarchs outscored the Warhawks in the second quarter, 15-10, to lead at halftime, 28-23.

In the third quarter, Madison began stepping up the pace, hitting inside and outside shots. By the end of the quarter, the Warhawks had outscored Monte Vista, 21-12, to lead 39-35.

By far, the most exciting stanza was the last, when the Monarchs' press again went to work. Monte Vista scored 18 points to Madison's 8 points to win the game, 58-52.

Jack Cross and Allen Bunting both had 16 points. Senior forward Gary Earle chipped in with 12. Reserve Ray Lanflisi scored 6 points and played excellent defense to help the Monarch cause.

The win was the fourth for the Monarchs without a defeat. Monte Vista's next opponent will be the Castle Park Trojans tomorrow night at the Trojans' gym.

Rules Eased On Mobilehomes

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A small easing of restrictions upon owner-occupied mobile homes was approved last week by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board agreed to lower the minimum size of such mobile homes from 360 to about 280 square feet based on new standards for regular housing in the building code.

The board also asked the planning commission to hold hearings to allow owner-occupied mobile homes on any legal building site in the LC (limited control) zone of one acre or more.

This would, however, apply only to such lots created prior to the LC zone with its two and a half acre minimum building site unless a variance was granted to reduce lot size.

The board action, which was not discussed, was a long way from the liberalization sought by Board Chairman Henry A. Boney. It was taken on the recommendation of Planning Director Dan Cherrier.

Boney wants the county to allow owner-occupied mobile homes on any legal building sites in the agricultural zones where they are not allowed except for farm labor housing or where the land owner is building a standard dwelling.

Rockets Face Phoenix In Gym Shoe Fray

The San Diego Rockets and Phoenix Suns meet in the fifth game of a six-game season series this Friday at 8 p.m. at the San Diego Sports Arena.

All youths, 14-and-under, attending the game with an adult will receive a certificate good for a pair of Rocket shoes at any Sneaker Inn Shoe Store in San Diego.

Phoenix and San Diego have split in four games this season. San Diego's wins were one-point victories, 115-114 here and 117-116 in Phoenix. The Suns have captured 117-98 and 108-102 wins in Phoenix, the latter victory coming in their last meeting, Sunday.

The Suns will bring a 10-9 all-time series advantage into Friday's battle which will be the next to last time they will meet this season. Their final clash will come off on the last day of the season, March 21, in San Diego.

The Rockets won seven of eight games from the Suns in 1968-69 and Phoenix returned the compliment last season, taking all seven meetings. In the 19 games between the two teams, the Rockets are averaging 119.4 points to the Suns' 119.0.

USIU Cagers Take Time Off After 3 Wins

In fact, the game with Claremont will launch a busy week for the Westerners, who also have an away game with La Verne College on Wednesday, Dec. 16, and a game against Westmont College at Santa Barbara on Saturday, Dec. 19.

Gulls To Tackle Portland At Sports Arena Tonight

The San Diego Gulls open a vitally important five game stretch tonight when they face off against the league-leading Portland Buckaroos at the Sprts Arena at 8 p.m.

The Gulls will play four of their next five games against the Buckaroos, and the next ten days could tell a great deal about the Gulls' chances in the Western Hockey League race this season.

Following tonight's game, the Gulls travel to Phoenix tomorrow night for a game against the Roadrunners which will be televised on KCST (Channel 39), and then returned to the Sports Arena for a Saturday night meeting with Portland.

The Gulls play in Portland on Wednesday and Saturday of next week to round out the four-game confrontation with the Buckaroos. Portland will return to the Sports Arena for another game on December 26.

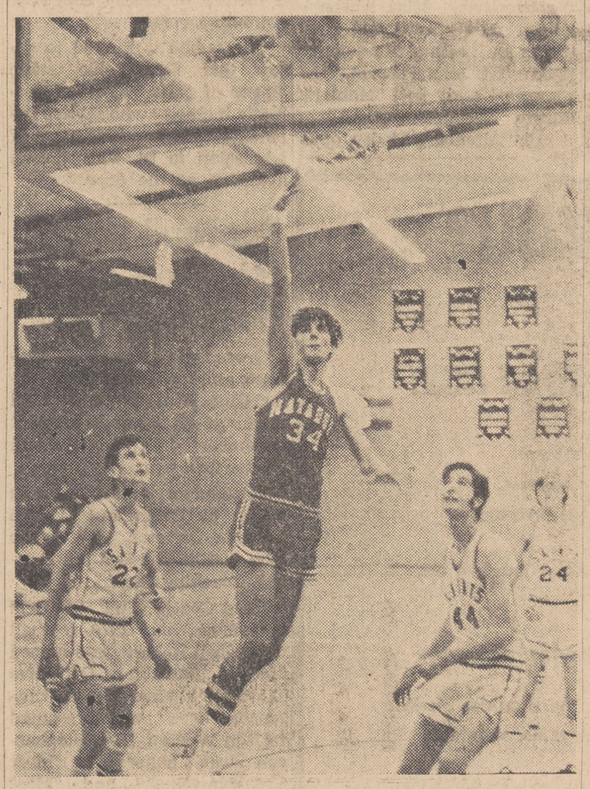
The Gulls will have to reverse a trend against the Bucks. Portland has won three straight from the Gulls this season, and stretching back into last season, the Gulls have won just once in the last 13 starts againsts the Bucks.

The Gulls are in second place, seven points behind the league-leading Buckaroos. San Dieg won one game and lost two in last week's activity, but the one win was a big one, putting them back into second place ahead of Seattle.

San Diego lost to Denver, 5-3, and Salt Lake, 6-0, on a short road trip; then returned home to defeat Denver, 7-5, on Sunday night.

The Sunday night victory was important in that it put the Gulls into position to challenge the Buckaroos, but also gave a good indication in another way. The Gulls got goals from seven different players and four different lines in the game, the most balanced production they have gotten this season.

"We will need scoring balance to go against Portland," said Gulls' General Manager-Coach Max McNab, "and I hope we have got the other lines going. I can't depend completely on the Gerry Goyer line".



DRIVING — Mount Miguel basketball player drives into the basket to grab two points. Mount Miguel played pretty well last week, splitting a pair of games with Saint Augustine and Crawford.

Matadors Split Pair With Saints, Colts

The Mount Miguel basketball team, after splitting a pair of games last week, beating San Diego and losing to Lincoln, split a pair of games again, with Saint Augustine and Crawford.

Against the Saints Friday, the Matadors looked sharp in the first half, employing an excellent full court press, creating turnovers and grabbing 17 rebounds before halftime.

But the Saints, down 32-29 into the third period, finally managed to break the press and cruised through with layups and fast passing plays to take the lead, 48-43, as the teams came into the final eight minutes of play.

Aztecs Take To Road For Tilt With Loyola

The renewal of an old rivalry is on tap this week for San Diego State's basketball team, 0-2 on the season, as the Aztecs hit the road for the second straight week for a meeting with Loyola at 8 p.m. tomorrow night.

The Lions, co-favorites with the University of the Pacific for the West Coast Athletic Conference title, hold a 22-20 edge over the Aztecs in what is State's seventh oldest rivalry. The teams haven't met since Loyola came out on top 90-54 in the 1961-62 campaign.

Loyola opened their season last week by dumping Occidental, 89-74, and then followed by losing to Arizona State, 87-78.

The LA-based quintet has a pair of top-notch performers in 6-8 center Jim Haderlein and 6-4 forward Richard Dixon.

The Aztecs had a rough go in their two opening contests last week. State lost a close 93-86 decision to Texas Tech, co-favorite for the Southwest Conference title, and then dropped a wild 117-79 contest to Arizona State. Both games were on the road.

Poor shooting spelled State's downfall as the Aztecs shot only 35 percent in the two losses. Lack of accurate shooting really hurt in the loss to Arizona State as SDS trailed only 59-52 at the half, but the Aztecs shot a horrendous 21 percent in the final half as ASU ran up a record number of points.

Guard Jim Harris emerged as the early scoring leader. Playing his first two games for State, he hit 15 versus Texas Tech and 17 against Arizona State, giving him a 16.0 average. Gary Schneider had a couple of good games as he grabbed 15 rebounds and scored 15 points versus Tech and then pulled down nine more carooms in the ASU tilt.

press in the fourth period, but were unable to catch the taller Saints, who won 70-61.

The Matadors came back Saturday at the same gym to battle Crawford in the first game of a double-header. The Colts were not quite ready for the Miguel bucket brigade in the first period, as Mount Miguel built up a quick 22-12 lead.

Crawford came back in the second period to cut the Matador margin to 38-32, but was never able to catch the Spring Valley school.

In the third period, the Mats took things easy, controlling the ball and the rebounds, and center John Slater put on a good show.

About midway through the third period, the Colts managed to catch Mount Miguel, as the Matadors were playing with several second and third string players.

Mount Miguel's regulars came back into the action before Crawford could take the lead however, and the local team plodded on to the win, 73-66.

The win for Mount Miguel was the second of the year, which is equal to the team's total wins last year.

The team will take Friday off, but will be in action next Tuesday against a rugged University team.

Smoke Kills Local Man

Philip D. Dorlund, 45, of 1124½ Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley, was found dead in a smoke-filled room in his cottage Tuesday morning.

He was found by a neighbor who came into the house to try to put out a fire in the living room after being alerted by children walking to school.

According to Deputy Coroner Max Murphy, Dorlund apparently died of smoke inhalation.

Midwinter Trades Bring 'Zip' and 'Zap' to Padres

In the twilight of this year, a new look now has been created for the Padres of 1971.

To the sock of last season, now add "zip" for speed.

And to both, now add "zap" for strong defense.

With three quiet but significant trades, president Buzzie Bavasi has changed the image of his team.

The sluggers, Ollie Brown, Nate Colbert, Clarence Gaston and Ed Spiezio remain. And the acquisitions of Rod Gaspar, and Don Mason provide the necessary qualities — speed and base reaching ability — to make the team power-172 homers last year — far more meaningful.

Gaspar and Mason, the latter acquired from the Giants for Steve Huntz, both hit left-handed, a favorable statistic considering the clubs potent righthanded power.

And one should not overlook Dave Robinson, a new and pleasant face of last September when he arrived from Salt Lake to hit .316 in 15 games. He is a lefthanded hitter, too.

"With speed in yur lineup, you can do so many more things," said manager Preston Gomez. "We now have speed. And we're going to use it."

And there's a new Padre defense with the "road-runner" Herandez at shortstop and Mason, an outstanding fielder, who never has had a true opportunity in the majors, at second.

"Right now, I would say that Hernandez and Mason will be our shortstop/second base combination," Gomez said.

Dave Campbell did a good job at second last year and we will try him also at third. I believe he can be an excellent third baseman. And the reports from winter ball are very encouraging concerning Spiezio's progress."

Gaspar, who was acquired from the Mets earlier, is an outstanding defensive outfielder, as are regulars Gaston and Brown. Robinson and Ivan Murrell also are excellent fielders and in reserve there is the veteran Al Ferrara.

The Padres, in the Baltimore swap, also lost Tom Dukes along with Dobson but Gomez believes Severinson and lefthander Bill Laxton, drafted by the Padres from the Philly roster, will strengthen the San Diego bullpen.

"We certainly will have a lot of competition among our pitchers at spring training," Gomez said. "And that's what I like."

Mission Bay Distance Run Set Dec. 19

Women's high school and senior men's races will be added to the open 15-mile run for the Sixth Annual Mission Bay distance running competition on Dec. 19 at 10 a.m. starting and finishing at Mission Beach Plunge.

High schoolers will run a five-mile course around West Mission Beach. The other divisions will take a complete loop around Mission Bay. Entries for all divisions will close Dec. 18.

The Mission Bay 15-Mile Run will be conducted by the San Diego Track and Field Association in cooperation with the San Diego Recreation Department. Pacific Southwest Amateur Athletic Union is the sponsor.

The meet is open to all registered athletes of the AAU. AAU registration can be accomplished through the AAU offices at 1135 Garnet st. in Pacific Beach.

Men's entries should be sent to Jerry Burns, 4181 Raya way, San Diego, women's to Donna Gookin, 5946 Wenrich dr., San Diego.

Cigarette smoking by women during pregnancy can have a tragic effect, judging from the researches of Prof. C. Scott Russell, head of obstetrics at a hospital in Sheffield, England. After a 10-year study of factors that might have been associated with stillbirths, he concluded that "two of every 10 unsuccessful pregnancies in women who smoked regularly would have been successful if the mother had not been a regular smoker."

Fall Chamber Series To Continue Tomorrow Night

She has appeared frequently in concert with her father.

Miss Abramowitsch will open her recital with two songs by Henry Purcell followed by five Greek folk songs by Johannes Brahms.

Chargers Off To Denver With Revamped Team

Sunday, Coach Charlie Waller takes the San Diego Chargers to Denver's Mile High Stadium to battle the broncos (5-7) for third place in the AFC West. Kickoff is 1 p.m. (PST).

The game will be televised in San Diego on KOGO-10 and broadcast by Stu Nahan and Emil Karas on KDEO and the Charger network.

The Chargers must win Sunday and defeat Kansas City in the season's finale at San Diego on Dec. 20 or suffer their first losing season since 1962.

San Diego regards Denver highly. The Chargers narrowly beat the Broncos, 24-21, in their first game this year and they still remember the 13-0 shutout inflicted on them by the Broncos at Denver last year. Although beaten by Kansas City, 16-0, last Sunday, the strong Denver defense limited Lenny Dawson to 18 net passing yards.

But that was 18 more yards than the Chargers allowed Virgil Carter and the Bengals through the air at San Diego Stadium. Carter completed 7 of 18 passes for 26 yards and was sacked three times for losses of 26 yards. Cincinnati's total offense was 136 yards.

"The offense sells tickets and the defense wins championships," Coach Waller had told the media last week . . . and the revamped Charger defense came through with its finest performance of the year. In lineup shifts, Gene Ferguson was moved from offensive to defensive tackle; Steve DeLong from end to tackle, and Jeff Staggs from linebacker to end.

"They all played well," said Waller, "and our pass coverage was excellent." Of Cincinnati's eight completions, five were to backs. Linebackers Bob Babich (16 tackles) and Pete Barnes (11) were outstanding and end Joe Owens had two sacks.

On offense, the Chargers squandered opportunities. John Hadl relieved Marty Domres (3-of9) and completed 14 of 27 passes for 156 yards, passed for one touchdown and ran for the other. Willie Frazier caught five passes for 42 yards and one touchdown.

The four catches by Lance Alworth brought his nine-year career total to 489 and boosted him past Don Hutson into seventh place on the list of all-time leading pass receivers.

Relatives Of Servicemen Must Await Calls Here

SAN DIEGO — The thousands of San Diego County relatives of servicemen in Vietnam today were offered some timely advice about exchanging holiday telephone greetings.

In essence, it amounts to "You call me, I can't call you."

"For a variety of reasons, it is virtually impossible to reach a particular serviceman by calling from this end," explained E. J. Brunick, head of Pacific Telephone's Traffic department. For instance, he said, service personnel at many military bases in Vietnam are relatively inaccessible.

"Nearly all of the calls completed between the two countries originate in Vietnam but are paid for in this country by having the charges reversed," he said.

Brunick was unable to estimate the number of calls that might be received by county residents from Vietnam servicemen but noted that there are several major military bases in the area, including Naval and Marine installations.

Brunick said that special arrangements have been made by AT&T's long lines department to help servicemen call home at their convenience. The arrangements were made through the cooperation of the U.S.O., the military, the Bell System and communications people in Hong Kong and South Vietnam.

Many of the calls, Brunick said, are placed from the U.S.O. center in downtown Saigon. However, calls can also be made from a number of hospitals and service centers at bases in the Vietnamese countryside.

Five years ago, about 30 calls a day were being completed over two high frequency radio circuits that were in service four hours daily. Although these are still the only circuits handling calls into Vietnam, provision of special facilities at the Saigon U.S.O. center now allows 750 outgoing calls to be completed daily. The calls are carried by radio to Hong Kong and then to this country on undersea cable or satellite circuits.

Brunick added that Vietnam is 16 hours ahead of Pacific Standard Time.

The play features Pamela Adams, of Spring Valley, in one of the leading roles.

Senate Votes To Appropriate Head Start Cash

The Senate last week voted to appropriate enough money so Head Start could hold on to some 62,800 youngsters who may have to be dropped from the popular pre-school program for lack of funds, and pick up 57,800 new ones besides.

The action, which followed a request by Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.), may mean that the number of children now enrolled in the program in California could be raised from 20,300 to 24,550.

The Cranston request came in the form of an amendment offered on the floor of the Senate to the Labor-Health, Education and Welfare appropriation bill. It was approved by the Senate last Friday by a 44-32 vote and sent back to the House for conference committee consideration.

The Cranston amendment calls for the full funding of Head Start at the $398 million a year level originally authorized.

Gifts In Car Could Mean Nice Christmas For Thief

December is the jingle bell month, when the traditional joy-to-the-world spirit prevails, when we mellow into an obsessional mood of assuming everybody has love in his heart. But don't get carried away and overdo it.

There'll be some spoilsports around with larceny in their hearts. "Peeping Toms" will sneak up to the windows of your parked car and peer covetously at any Christmas packages you might have left piled on the seats or on the floor.

If your car widow is down, this character with taking ways will have easy pickings. He might even send you a Christmas card, thanking you for doing his holiday shopping for him.

And if you left your car unlocked, especially with the key still in the ignition, some unprincipled thief might make a grand slam in his bid to beat you out of your property.

But why put all the odds in his favor? Why not thief-proof your car?

Here are some valuable tips, or reminders:

1) Don't leave your packages or other possessions up for grabs by leaving them on the seats or on the floor of your parked car. Put them in your car trunk — and lock the trunk.

2) Roll your windows up tight, and lock your car doors.

3) Don't forget to remove your ignition key when you leave your parked auto.

4) Don't park your car in a remote or dimly lit spot. Thieves get itchy fingers when they see an opportunity to work at their trade in the dark.

Selected from 23 candidates, the new board members were installed this week at a meeting of the 15-member board.

"The 1200-member association is pleased to have such highly qualified men serve on the board for the next three years," Froelich said.

President Froehlich honored the new directors, along with current board members, and, the 1970 and 1971 officers at the annual President's lunch following the meeting.

District Changes Policy

The Grossmont High School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and amended the district policy in regards to on-campus clubs.

The board voted to omit one line in the policy which read, "Organizations organized for the promotion of spiritual values must be considered religious groups and will not be designated as official school clubs."

The action was brought about so that clubs can pursue spiritual development and still be campus-affiliated.

District Eyes $15 Million Bond Issue

The Grossmont Union High School District has an eight point need but it needs $15 million to satisfy it, Dr. Austin Sellery, district superintendent said Tuesday night.

He was meeting with a group of 25 interested citizens who agreed that a Citizens Avisory Committee should be formed to make recommendations to the high school board.

Dr. Sellery spelled out the first five year's need of a 20 yar projection compiled the USIU's Institute for Educational Management.

The eight projects are: 1. acquire site for 9th district high school; 2. site for 10th school; 3. site for adult high school; 4. additinal and remodeling at 8 high schools; 5. payoff leases on portable classrooms; 6. sites for schools 11 and 12; 7. construction of 9th school, and 8. site for central administration center.

Sellery said the $17 million need would fit within the district's bonding capacity and would cost "at the most" 15 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation.

The district is now taxed at $2.31 of its $2.98 capacity.

Man Arrested Locally On Dope Charge

Daniel L. Lombardi, Jr., 18, of Torrance, California, was taken into custody last Tuesday morning on charges of possession of marijuana, after Sheriff's deputies stopped him in Spring Valley for a loud muffler.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the patrol vehicle was parked in the Mayfair parking lot in Casa de Oro when the suspect vehicle pulled into the lot and returned to the street, heading west on Highway 94.

Deputies pulled the car over on the freeway near the Bancroft dr. off-ramp, approached the suspect, and noticed an odor of alcohol on his breath. He was put into the back of the patrol vehicle.

He was questioned and released from the vehicle, but when the rear seat was checked, a baggie containing the marijuana was discovered.

Bail Reduction Asked By L.G. Mother Jailed On Marijuana Charge

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A bail review hearing for a Lemon Grove woman held in county jail on a charge of selling marijuana to an undercover agent Monday was set for Thursday by Judge Robert O. Staniforth, presiding judge of the Superior Court's criminal division.

Faysene Ann Anderson, 34, of the 3400 block of Harris st., Lemon Gove, appeared Monday before Judge Staniforth to ask for a reduction in her $1,250 bail, but the judge delayed action for three days.

Mrs. Anderson, the mother of five children, was arrested on Dec. 1 and has been held in county jail since her arrest. She is charged with the sale of marijuana on Oct. 7, when she was working as a waitress at the Coral Inn, on Broadway, Lemon Grove.

The arresting officers' report alleges that Mrs. Anderson sent a teen-age daughter to the family residence to get the marijuana. It is also alleged that the agents pretended to smoke the marijuana.

A grand jury indictment was obtained on Nov. 25. Arrested with Mrs. Anderson was the teen-age daughter and a 17-year-old son. Both are now in custody of juvenile authorities.

Mrs. Anderson pleaded not guilty at her arraignment on Dec. 3 before Judge Staniforth.

Helix Students Learning Business Through Distributive Education

Several students at Helix High School are keeping busy in the business world these days. The active students are involved in the Distributive Education Program, a merchandizing class, at Helix.

Through the Distributive Education Program the students learn general information about the business world and they attain knowledge and skills that could be useful to on-the-job training or to future jobs.

Students also receive classroom instruction on the basic principles of marketing and how retail stores operate. The students are helped to find jobs so that they can test their marketing skills.

The jobs that students receive provide both goods and services to the customer. A student can work an average of 15 hours a week by working after school, evenings and weekends.

Distributive education students also receive an opportunity to develop leadership potential by becoming active in DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of America.

"DECA provides an opportunity to participate in group activities and to compete with youth who have similar interests and career objectives in the merchandizing field," explained Robert Lent, the Helix DECA advisor and merchandizing teacher.

The Helix DECA club has many fund raising activities each year. The first of such activities was a candy sale held in September. Besides the candy sale, DECA has operated the concession stands at the Helix football games.

Present fund raising activity is selling coffee and donuts during the Helix adult night school. Through such activities the DECA Members are applying their merchandizing skills as well as raising money for the club.

The funds raised will be used to help send 30 students from Helix to the California State DECA Spring Leadership Conference where they will compete in such areas as advertising, speaking and selling.

Students, Faculty At Helix 'Lend A Helping Hand' In Girls' League Food Drive

This year students, as well as faculty members, did "Lend a Helping Hand" by collecting 8,439 cans during the Helix High School's annual Girls' League Canned Food Drive.

The cans received were donated by the Girls' League to the Salvation Army for distribution to needy families in the San Diego area. Many cans of food found their way to Thanksgiving dinner tables while others will be used in Christmas gift packs.

Although the drive was conducted through first period classes, it was Robert Murphy's sixth period sophomore English class that brought in the most cans per person during the drive. The class brought in 1,620 cans.

Thomas Heyer's math class came in second in the drive with 1,070 cans brought in during the drive.

Outstanding individual participants were William Wells, sophomore, Cathy Kuhl, sophomore, Scott Wulff, freshman, and Mark Murphy, sophomore.

"I am really glad that both the students and faculty at Helix got involved and made the Canned Food Drive a success," Cathy Davis, Canned Food Drive chairman, said.

Motorists With Revoked Licenses Must Pay Fee

Motorists who have had their drivers' licenses suspended or revoked under mandatory provisions of law must pay a $5 "reinstatement fee" before they can drive again. The charge provides for the operational costs of the reinstatement process.

The fee is in addition to any other requirement for reinstatement of a suspended or revoked driver's license, said Director of Motor Vehicles Robert C. Cozens.

He added that 118,000 California motorists who are under mandatory suspensions or revocations of various durations will be mailed letters telling them that advance payment of $5 will be a condition of license reinstatement.

The fee requirement was enacted by the 1970 State Legislature. It applies only to actions required by law and not to those taken under the discretionary authority of the Department of Motor Vehicles, Cozens said. In some cases a judge may invoke a suspension or revocation; in other cases DMV does so.

A total of 139,000 such mandatory actions were taken during 1969.

Nearly 79,000 drivers had their licenses suspended last year when they were unable to produce evidence of insurance or ability to pay damages following auto crashes.

The next most frequent suspension or revocation (29,000 cases) followed first and second convictions of drunk driving.

Third most frequent were 11,000 mandatory suspensions against drivers who refused to take a sobriety test when stopped and asked to do so by police under the "implied consent" law.
